

Department Activities

- The fall play and spring musical are open to any student at Hammond High School. Students do not need to be enrolled in a Theatre Arts course in order to participate in these productions.
- Rehearsals for the play and musical average 8 -12 hours per week and are held in the afternoons and evenings.
- Students in a theatre class have the opportunity to join us on a field trip to NYC to see a Broadway show!
- International Thespian Society Troupe 8183 is an honor society for students who have excelled in a Theatre Arts course and have been involved in productions.
- Hammond also has an improvisational troupe, Dramastics, which performs during 3rd and 4th quarters. Auditions for this group are held after the musical performs.
- If students are interested in learning more about theatre, but do not wish to perform, they are invited to work as part of a technical crew for the major productions (sound, lights, set, costumes, props, etc.) or apply for the position of stage manager or assistant director.

Student & Parent Information

Bringing life to the stage, bringing the stage to life.

NO EXPERIENCE NECESSARY

Theatre 1

Learn the basics of performance, theatre design, and theatre history!

Tech Theatre

Learn the ins and outs of theatrical design, work on upcoming productions, work in the shop and catwalks above the auditorium.

ADVANCED COURSES

(Students may audition for these courses to bypass Theatre 1)

Students in the advanced courses have the opportunity to shine in the play and musical if they would like to audition or can hone technical skills by working on tech crew for co-curricular productions.

Theatre Company (GT Option)

Collaborate on theatre performances, create original characters, write and direct scenes, and develop design projects.

Musical Theatre Ensemble (GT Option)

Research musicals, sing, dance, choreograph, collaborate on performance pieces for assemblies and pep rallies.

TAKE IT TO THE NEXT LEVEL

Theatre Apprenticeship GT

By teacher invitation only.

Learn the many facets of theatrical production and choose one to explore over the course of the year.

Students in this class often act as a designer, stage manager, or assistant director on a production during the year.
